

On the 7th April 2022, took place a webinar introducing the White Paper titled "Towards a Safety Learning Culture for the Shipping Industry", which was developed in the framework of the EU-funded SAFEMODE project involving maritime and aviation partners.

In order to watch the webinar recording please click HERE and the presentation is also available HERE

Safety Culture is explored in this White Paper through interviews with national investigators and seafarers, as well as discussions with maritime stakeholders like shipping companies, NGOs, and regulators. In addition, the paper emphasizes the importance of a Safety Learning Culture and outlines ten good practices for enhancing safety learning. In conclusion, the paper presents several maritime use cases that illustrate how Safety Learning is being applied today in the shipping industry.

The White Paper is available for download HERE

